Will the activities of the Foundation "ABC XXI All of Poland Reads to Kids" lead to increased readership in Poland?

Teachers' opinions

Gizycko: November 2020

Opinion 1

Actions such as All of Poland Reads to Kids, Library Night, and the Foundation's activities will contribute to increased readership. These activities, which include the above-mentioned undertakings, are aimed primarily at younger readers whose reading habits are just beginning to be formed. Attractive forms of activities will awaken in the youngest a passion for reading and encourage them to visit the library.

Opinion 2

I believe that every action that promotes reading has an impact on the growth of readership in Poland.

Opinion 3

Observing the activities of the Foundation, I believe that it is an organization that has a chance to contribute to raising the level of readership in our country. In particular, this growth can take place among school-age children and young people. Their activities are very interesting for the recipients, properly promoted and tailored to the needs of the "customer - the student". Their initiatives can also connect generations. Moreover, in my opinion, they additionally trigger creativity by allowing the organisers to incorporate their own ideas into the action, e.g. in order to reach a specific audience. In my opinion, the Foundation entered the reading literacy issue perfectly.

Opinion 4

The most valuable part of the second campaign is the Golden List. When choosing books for the school library under the "Books of our Dreams" program in R....., I was guided by this list. I discussed the moving short story from the volume "Gorzka czekolada" during my parenting and Polish classes (the topic of publishing photos on the Internet). The excellent books on this list are Swedish children's literature. Could it be one of the reasons for the reading success in this country?

Opinion 5

The Foundation supports wise upbringing by running educational programmes for parents and pupils. It promotes reading through the "All of Poland Reads to Kids" campaign, the "Reading Schools" and "Reading Kindergartens" programmes, as well as Reading Families Clubs. It promotes valuable literature for children and young people by maintaining a Golden Book List, creating its own books and organizing the A. Lindgren Literary Competition for contemporary books for children and young people. The mission of the Foundation is to support the emotional health - mental, intellectual and moral - of children and young people through educational, educational and promotional activities.
